WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW IF YOU WANT TO COME ON BOARD

BEFORE ARRIVAL

VISA

The full workflow and the communication with the Italian embassy takes place through University portal (<https://www.university.it/studenti-stranieri>). The ECRS course has no role in this process and there is nothing the course can do to speed it up. Procedures, timing, and costs depend on the Country of origin.

Furthermore, in some countries getting an appointment with the Italian embassy takes several months. Non-UE Future students are welcome to ask by mail (cds_ambiente@uniss.it) for an entry on-line interview as early as possible.

Applications for Visa (University Enrolment for 25/26) have to be advanced by November 30 2025, but consider that classes start at the beginning of October 2025.

Requirements for enrolling

Admission to the Master Degree in ECRS is subject to possession of a three-year bachelor degree or scientific disciplines to be evaluated by a ECRS board: all the exams taken during the bachelor degree should be listed. A knowledge of the English language at level B1 is also required, proven by a university course, a certification or verified through an interview. For enrolment all the material to provide for admission should be translated in English, if it was not released in English.

So, to explore your eligibility for enrolment please send to cds_ambiente@uniss.it your carrier documentation (a curriculum vitae with the list of the exams taken can be enough).

With intention of enrolling, you should send the material in English or translated in English to M. Rita Cubeddu rcubeddu@uniss.it.

Enrolment at ECRS

You can enrol only after your admission requirements have been checked and you have been interviewed. Registration at (<https://uniss.esse3.cineca.it/Home.do>) will provide you with a UserID and Password to access the student reserved area, where you can complete the enrollment procedure and register for subsequent academic years after the first.

However, depending on your country, enrolment will be possible only going through the process “Universitaly – preenrolment – validation – visa- enrolment”.

Tuition fees at UNISS

Foreign students, if their residence country is not Italy, should only pay tuition fee for the second year of the ECRS Master (so, no tuition fee for the first year!).

In few days we will be noticed about exact fees for the 2025/26 which will depend on the on the country of origin, merit and income. The costs to attend a master's degree course in Sassari consist of three items: tuition fee, virtual stamp, and regional tax. Payments are scheduled in three tranches expiring respectively in October (part of the tuition fee + virtual stamp), February (part of tuition fee + regional tax) and April (possible last part of the tuition fee).

Scholarship

The ECRS course does not assign scholarships.

At UNISS student scholarships are assigned by a regional agency named ERSU. A yearly call is published by ERSU (<https://ersusassari.it/it/servizi/servizio/Borse-di-studio/>) in July (deadline in mid September), but the participation requires some bureaucratic duties that need your presence in Italy (e.g. ISEE) as scholarships are based mostly on family income, which can be hard to certify for International students.

Accommodation

STUDENT HOUSE

Rooms might be available in ERSU student houses located in Sassari.

A room in a student house can be obtained only once enrolled.

Prices (per person per month) range from 170€ in a double room to 225€ in a single room.

PRIVATE APARTMENTS

Renting a room/apartment from private owners represents an option. However, its search and contract definition is only possible on site. Prices (per person per month) are on average 230-250€ for single rooms in a shared apartment and 150-180€ for shared rooms. Private apartments or studios can be found but the cost for a decent location and apartment conditions is never below 400€/month. These amounts usually do not include bills (e.g. electricity, gas, water, wi-fi, waste recycling; roughly additional 50€/month) nor deposit. Some owners ask for a person already in Italy who can guarantee for you.

Rent contracts usually have a minimum duration of 10-12 months. The best period to locate rooms/apartments is from June to September; during the rest of the year it might be difficult to find apartments/rooms.

For early accommodation upon arrival (until finding a final accommodation), the city offers several affordable rooms in B&B (<https://www.airbnb.it/>), affittacamere, apartments, and hotels (<https://www.booking.com/index.it.html>).

Health Insurance and access to the Italian National Health care system

It is usually requested by the Italian Embassies and Consulate to have an insurance policy prior to arrival. However, also on arrival it would be safe to be covered by a travel health insurance policy taken out in your home country. Once here, as a student, it will be possible to be covered by the regional health system through the payment of a tax per solar year. This possibility is only given to students after the residence permit procedure is completed (see below “permesso di soggiorno”).

However, we remind you that emergency hospitalization without charge in Italy is guaranteed for health issues caused by accidents or any sudden health problem, also to foreign citizens and students.

Italian Language

Although the official language of the course is English, living in Sassari you may experience difficulties communicating for your needs (bureaucracy, accommodation, shopping, etc.). This is why you might consider learning at least some basics of the Italian language already before your arrival (for instance while waiting for your visa).

UNISS offers the possibility of having a course of Italian language on-line (<https://www.uniss.it/it/ateneo/strutture/centro-linguistico-di-ateneo-cla/corsi-di-lingua-italiana-stranieri/1st-semester-4>).

AFTER ARRIVAL

Permesso di soggiorno (Residence Permit)

This is the most exhausting task. For the Italian regulation, any non-EU student can stay in Italy only with a residence permit (permesso di soggiorno). The application for this document can be submitted at a post office within 8 days from your arrival, that will give you a complicated application form and an appointment for the next steps. The subsequent steps must be carried out in person at the Immigration Office located inside the Local Police Station (in Italian: Questura) which is in charge of issuing the permit. Both at the Post Office and at the Questura you might face an officer who does not speak English; so if you don't speak Italian, it is a good idea to be accompanied by an Italian speaker. Especially with Questura the interaction can be tough.

Overall costs for the release amount to approximately 70 € plus 30 € to get the first application form and deliver it at the Post Office. The residence permit is valid only for 1 year. Before the end of that year you have to submit a renewal request and go through the same initial procedure and costs. Only with a valid Permesso di soggiorno you can apply to receive health care (see above Health Insurance and access to the Italian National Health care system), and you need health care/insurance to get the renewal. The residence permit will be issued after several months from the application. You will be notified and should go and take it at the Questura.

Phone and wi-fi

It is easy to buy a sim card and change the operator. Some apartments are rented with wifi (extra costs). In the university facilities, wifi is available for free to any student enrolled (two available nets: unissmobile and eduroam, both accessible using the student's credentials).

Transport within and outside Sardinia

Sassari is located on the island of Sardinia. The city has a bus service (ATP lines and timetable). The shuttle bus to the local airport (Alghero Fertilia 30km away) runs approximately once every 2 hrs (<https://app.arstspa.it/quadri/760.html>). The other airports in Olbia (110km) and Cagliari (220km) are not so well connected. Regional connections are possible by bus or by train, but rides are not very frequent.

Connections with other destinations in the country or abroad are possible by plane or ferry boat (through Porto Torres and Olbia ports). The closest airport in Alghero is connected with main Italian airports and with several foreign destinations depending on the season. You can book flights at affordable prices (especially if not in summer) from low cost companies. Tickets for both flights and ferries can be easily bought online.

Canteen

The regional agency ERSU manages a canteen in Sassari where it is possible to find menus based on traditional regional recipes and which take into account the needs of students with food intolerances, vegetarians and vegans (<https://www.uniss.it/en/international/incoming-mobility/guide-services-incoming-mobility-students/university-canteen>).

To benefit from this service, you must be registered to ERSU. Once registered, if you receive an ERSU scholarship, you will automatically have access to the canteen; if you have no scholarship, you can pay for single meals, the cost depending on your income (ISEE). Meals are usually cheaper than local restaurants, diners and bars.
